

What is the global PV market demand in 2024?

InfoLink estimates that global PV market demand in 2024 is projected to reach 469-533 GW. The top four markets worldwide--China, the U.S., Europe, and India--each region faces multiple challenges, including economic changes, policy uncertainties, and supply-demand mismatches.

How will global PV market change after 2025?

Meanwhile, fluctuations in supply chain prices and interest rates also put pressure on investment returns, adding uncertainties to demand. Market demand growth after 2025 is expected to slow down compared to 2024. Even as demand growth turns slow in traditional major markets, emerging markets inject new momentum into the global PV market.

How will natural gas affect PV installation demand in Europe?

Ample natural gas reserves in Europe may further dampen installation demand. Europe's PV demand is projected to reach 77-85 GW in 2024 and may rebound to 85-93 GW in 2025, reflecting a 9-10% growth. However, long-term growth remains contingent on economic performance and further policies.

Will Europe's PV demand rebound in 2024?

Europe's PV demand is projected to reach 77-85 GW in 2024 and may rebound to 85-93 GW in 2025, reflecting a 9-10% growth. However, long-term growth remains contingent on economic performance and further policies. In the second half of 2024, the US trade barriers underwent significant adjustments.

Plan your solar PV investment in 2025-2026 with the right timeline to dodge supply delays and price hikes. Learn how to lock in value early.
